Avyakt BapDada

The method to go into the flying stage and the signs of charitable souls.

Today, the Father, the Master of the Garden, is seeing His fragrant flowers and the buds of tomorrow who are instruments especially for benefit and who are also filled with courage and enthusiasm in His spiritual garden. Baba is seeing the little children who are images of the fortune of tomorrow. (Today, a group of little children is sitting in front of BapDada.) BapDada calls these little children the sparkling stars of the earth. These lucky stars will be the instruments to give light to the world. Seeing all these young and old children, BapDada is remembering the scene at the beginning of establishment when such little children emerged and had this determined thought and the zeal and enthusiasm for the task of world benefit: We little children will carry out the biggest task that all the politicians, religious leaders and scientists want to accomplish, but are unable to do. We little ones will carry out this task and show everyone. And, today, Baba is seeing those thoughts of those little children in the corporeal form. Those few little children are today carrying out the task in the form of the Shiv Shakti Pandav Army. All of you know the history. Today, all of you have become the deepmala (rosary of lights) through those ignited lamps and have become the garland around the Father's neck. Even now, seeing the young and old children, Baba can see the picture of fortune of tomorrow's world in every child. What do all of you children consider yourselves to be? You are the lucky stars, are you not? Today is the day of the children; the older ones are watching from the gallery. BapDada is also happy to see the special children. Each child will give many souls the Father's introduction and the right to claim the Father's inheritance. In any case, children are said to be great souls. All of you are true great souls, that is, pure, elevated souls, are you not? Do you great souls maintain your one determined thought of constantly belonging to the one Father and following the one elevated direction? You have this firm faith, do you not? When you go back to your own places, you are not going to be caught up in anyone's company, are you? The photograph of all of you has been taken here. Therefore, constantly remember your elevated life. Always remember that each one of you children is an instrument for the elevated transformation of all the souls of the world. Do you have the courage to take up such a huge responsibility? Are all of you children going to fulfil your responsibility of service from amrit vela? If you are weak in any respect, put that right from now. Everyone's vision is on all of you. This is why, from amrit vela until night time, all of you have to follow accurately the timetable that you have been given for the life of an easy yogi and an elevated yogi, that is, for an elevated life. Pay attention to this with determination from now. Do all of you know the qualifications of a yogi? (All the children responded to all of BapDada's questions, saying "Yes".) Do you all know how a yogi sits, how he behaves and what his vision is like? Do you move along in the same way or do you also make a little mischief? All of you are yogi souls, are you not? You children cannot do what the people of the world do. You great souls have to remain such embodiments of peace that, no matter how many great people there are, seeing you souls who are embodiments of peace, people should experience peace. And they should not see you as ordinary children, but as unique children. You are unique and special souls. Do you move along in this way? Transform this from now. Today, BapDada has especially come to meet all of you children. Do you understand? Even the older ones have come with the children. BapDada is giving special remembrance to all the children who have come. As well as this, all of you know that, according to the present time, BapDada is taking all the children into the flying stage. You do know what the elevated method for the flying stage is, do you not? With the transformation of one word, you can constantly experience the flying stage. What is that one expression? Just, "Everything is Yours! (tera)" You changed the word "mine" (mera) into "Yours" (Tera). The word "Yours" also makes you belong to Him. And this one word makes you double-light for all time. When you say “I am Yours!”, the soul is light. And when you say “Everything is Yours”, then too, you become light (no burden). So just the one word “yours”. By being double light, you easily become those with a flying stage. You have had the practice of saying “mine” over a long period of time. This word “mine” has taken you into many types of spins. Change this one word. Mine has now become Yours. This change is not difficult, is it? Constantly remain stable in the true form of this one word. Do you understand what you have to do? The elevated souls who constantly stay lost in love of the One are experiencing the elevated life at the present time and are also making their future elevated and imperishable. Therefore, constantly remember this one word. Do you understand? On this basis, you can progress to whatever extent you want and you can also accumulate as many treasures as you want. In any case, well-known souls from a good clan in worldly life always have the aim in their life to make donations and perform charity. All of you are from the greatest and the most elevated clan of all. So what is the aim of the Brahmin souls of the elevated clan, that is, of the souls who are full of all treasures? Constantly be a great donor. Constantly be a charitable soul. If you have a thought influenced by any vice what would that be called? Would that be sin or charity? It would be called sin, would it not? Be one who constantly performs charity for the self too. A charitable soul in thoughts, a charitable soul in words and a charitable soul in deeds. When you have become a charitable soul, there can be no name or trace of any sin. Therefore, always remain aware that all of you Brahmin souls are constantly charitable souls. To have elevated feelings and elevated good wishes for any soul is the greatest charity. No matter what any other soul may be like, whether that soul is opposing you or is loving to you, the charity of a charitable soul is to transform the soul who is opposing you with the charitable treasures of elevated feelings. It is said to be charity to carry out a task of enabling a soul who lacks something to attain that thing. This is charity. When an opposing soul comes in front of you charitable souls, you would always see that soul as a soul who is deprived of the power to tolerate. Then with your accumulation of charity, good wishes and elevated thoughts, you would co-operate in making that soul attain the power of tolerance. This becomes an act of charity for that soul. A charitable soul constantly considers the self to be a bestower, a child of the Bestower. He remains beyond any desire of temporary attainment from any soul and even beyond taking anything from anyone. Such a soul doesn't have limited desires such as: When this one gives something, I too will give something. When this one does something, I too will do something. Because of being a child of the Bestower, he would be a charitable soul who gives everyone love, co-operation and power. A charitable soul never has any desire for praise for the charity he performs because, as a charitable soul, he knows that to accept limited praise is to remain deprived of attainment for all time. This is why in giving he is always as full as an ocean. A charitable soul would give others the experience of happiness, the Father's love, supersensuous joy and a spiritual life full of bliss through his every word. His every word would be the nourishment of happiness. Every deed of a charitable soul would be such that they enable all souls to receive co-operation. On seeing the actions of this charitable soul, every soul would experience receiving co-operation in constantly flying ahead. Do you understand the qualifications of a charitable soul? So, constantly be such elevated souls, that is, become the practical form of the elevated Brahmin life. Be the charitable souls of the pure household, for only with the influence of such charitable souls will the name and trace of sin end. Achcha.

To the charitable souls who constantly perform charity through their every thought; to those who go into the flying stage by constantly changing one word; to the special souls who, as the children of the Bestower, constantly bestow on everyone, BapDada's love, remembrance and namaste.

BapDada meeting a group of kumaris:

A kumari life means a life of freedom. Do you constantly remain aware of what you receive through this freedom and what you receive from the One who makes your fortune elevated? Or do you think that you are still kumaris who are studying in college? Always have the awareness: As is the Father, so am I. What is the Father? The Server. So all of you do service, do you not? Are all of you kumaris the beads of the Father's rosary? Are you sure? You will not become the garland around someone else's neck, will you? Those who have become the garland around the Father's neck cannot become the garland around anyone else's neck. What thought have you had? You cannot go anywhere else even in your thoughts. Are you strong to this extent? By belonging to the one Father, you receive a right to all treasures. Would you let go of all rights and chase after two paisas (a fraction of a rupee)? Those two paisas are also received when you are first beaten. First of all, there is the beating of sorrow and peacelessness and then you eat two chapattis. You don't like such a life, do you? A kumari life is a fortunate life, and you have become doubly fortunate. You will now take all the papers in a practical way, will you not? Not that examination written on paper! Constantly have the awareness: I am constantly a Shiv Shakti, I am combined. Kumaris always have to go somewhere or another (after marriage, they go to another home). If you find such an elevated home, what more do you want? Kumaris think that they should find a good home, a home that's prosperous. This home is so full and prosperous that nothing is lacking. Everyone should receive such fortune! Wah! My fortune! Continue to sing this song. Just as everyone loves the moonlight, so too, become those who give the light of knowledge. Become like the moon of knowledge. Just as the star of fortune of yourself is sparkling, so too, make the star of fortune of everyone else sparkle. Then everyone will give you blessings over and over again.

All of you kumaris will claim a scholarship, will you not? To claim a scholarship means to come into the rosary of victory. Make such fast effort that you come into the rosary of victory. You will give the return of all the sustenance that you are receiving, will you not? The return of the sustenance is to become equal to the Father and to claim the scholarship. Therefore, constantly have the determination to be victorious and become a bead of the rosary of victory. Are all of you content with this life? You don't ever remember that life, that food, drink, touring around etc., do you? Seeing others, you don't feel like having a little taste of that, do you? That life is a life of falling down, whereas this is a life of climbing up. Who would go from climbing in the direction of falling? Constantly remain ever-ready. Always remain ready in your own way. In terms of the study, there isn't any bondage of interest. Where there is a gathering of kumaris, there is definitely growth in service. Wherever there are pure souls, there is always an auspicious task. All of you have passed in the subject of harmonising sanskars amongst yourselves, have you not? There are no complications and your vision and attitude are not drawn anywhere else! Kumaris especially have to claim the certificate of belonging to the one Father and none other. As is your name, bal-brahmcharni (kumaris celibate from birth), so too, let your thoughts also be just as pure. This is known as claiming a scholarship. Then you are right hands. You are the Shiv Shaktis who belong to the one Father and none other. Remember just this and no type of Maya will attack you. Achcha.

BapDada meeting a group of teachers:

Do all of you instrument servers continue to move along whilst considering yourselves to be instruments? Those who consider themselves to be instruments always remain light and are always embodiments of success. The lighter you are, the more success you will definitely have. Sometimes, there is little service and sometimes, there is a lot of service. However, you don't feel a burden, do you? You don't become heavy thinking, "What will happen? How will it happen?", do you? The One who is inspiring it is making me do it, and I am carrying out the task as an instrument: this is the speciality of a server. Constantly remain content in the effort for yourself and in service for only then will there be contentment in those for whom you are instruments. It is a speciality to remain constantly content and to keep others content. Achcha.

Good morning at the time of farewell:

Whilst seeing all the elevated souls everywhere and all the special souls, BapDada is seeing all of you personally in front of Him in Madhuban, the land of blessings, and is giving you love and remembrances and also saying "Good morning" to all of you. "Good morning" means that the whole day should remain so good and elevated, that you remain in the sustenance of love and remembrance throughout the day. This love and remembrance is elevated sustenance. Constantly remain within this sustenance and whilst giving this Godly love and remembrance to everyone, continue to give them elevated sustenance. "Love and remembrance" is the swing of sustenance in which you are sustained. "Good morning" is powerful nectar, medicine and nourishing food. You can call it what you want! So, "Good morning" is one that makes you powerful, and "Love and remembrance" is the swing of sustenance. Constantly remain in this swing and constantly maintain this power. Good morning to all the children who constantly stay in this form. Achcha.

Blessing: May you be lucky stars and remain free from the cycle of coming and going by invoking your perfect form.

Now invoke your perfect stage and perfect form and that form will constantly remain in your awareness, and you will be liberated from the cycle of coming and going, that is, the cycle of sometimes having an elevated stage and sometimes a low stage, of sometimes being in remembrance and at other times forgetting. Those people want to become free from the cycle of birth and death, whereas you become free from wasteful matters and become sparkling lucky stars.

Slogan: To be influenced by any obstacle means to put a flaw in the diamond.
